Investment Objective

To provide capital preservation as a primary goal, with income and capital growth as secondary objectives.

Investment Strategy

The portfolio is invested in a conservative mix of securities that seeks stability with some growth and income potential. Holdings are diversified primarily among fixed income securities, typically focusing on short to intermediate-term maturities. Stock investments may be focused on dividend paying securities in pursuit of growth opportunities and income generation.

The fund manager will adjust the investment mix over time to manage risk by continually evaluating individual securities and market conditions to determine the relative attractiveness of each investment. In general, stock exposure will increase when valuations are low and decrease during speculative markets.

About Risk-Based Funds

Risk-based funds offer professional management and asset allocation through a choice of investment objectives that range from fairly aggressive to fairly conservative. All an investor has to do is determine which objective best suits his or her current risk tolerance and investment time horizon, then decide when to move to a different objective as his or her personal situation changes over the years.

Time Horizon and Range of Stock Exposure

Maximum Term	Extended Term	Moderate Term	Conservative Term
15+ Years	7 - 20 Years	3 - 10 Years	0 - 5 Years
70% - 95%	40% - 70%	20% - 60%	15% - 45%

May be appropriate for investors:

- Who seek to minimize declines in account value with the potential for modest growth and income generation
- Who want to assume a minimal amount of capital risk through limited stock exposure

A Word About Risk

All investments involve risks, including possible loss of principal. Because the fund invests in both stocks and bonds, the value of your investment will fluctuate in response to stock market movements and changes in interest rates. Investing in the fund will also involve a number of other risks, including issuer-specific risk, foreign investment risk, and small-cap/mid-cap risk. Investments in options and futures, like all derivatives, can be highly volatile and involve risks in addition to the risks of the underlying instrument on which the derivative is based, such as counterparty, correlation and liquidity risk. Also, the use of leverage increases exposure to the market and may magnify potential losses.

The Conservative Term Composite Benchmark is a blend of the Russell 3000® Index (Russell 3000), MSCI ACWI ex USA Index (ACWIxUS), and Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Intermediate Aggregate Bond Index (BIAB) in the following weightings: 15% Russell 3000, 5% ACWIxUS, and 80% BIAB through 05/31/2012; and 22% Russell 3000, 8% ACWIxUS, and 70% BIAB beginning 06/01/2012. Russell 3000 is an unmanaged index that consists of 3,000 of the largest U.S. companies based on total market capitalization. Index returns are based on a market capitalization-weighted average of relative price changes of the component stocks plus dividends whose reinvestments are compounded daily. Index returns provided by Bloomberg. ACWIxUS is designed to measure large and mid-cap representation across 22 of 23 Developed Markets countries (excluding the U.S.) and 26 Emerging Markets countries. The Index returns do not reflect any fees or expenses. The Index is denominated in U.S. dollars. The Index returns assume daily investment of gross dividends (which do not account for applicable dividend taxation) prior to 12/31/1998, as net returns were not available. Subsequent to 12/31/1998, the Index returns are net of withholding taxes. They assume daily reinvestment of net dividends thus accounting for any applicable dividend taxation. Index returns provided by Bloomberg. BIAB is an unmanaged, market value-weighted index of U.S. domestic investment-grade debt issues, including government, corporate, asset-backed, and mortgage-backed securities with maturities of greater than one year but less than ten years. Index returns provided by Interactive Data. The returns of the indices do not reflect any fees or expenses. Returns provided are calculated monthly using a blended allocation. Because the fund's asset allocation will vary over time, the composition of the fund's portfolio may not match the composition of the Conservative Term Composite Benchmark.
