Investment Objective

To provide capital growth and manage risk for investors planning to retire (or meet another investment goal) in or around the year indicated in the fund's name.

Investment Strategy

Currently: The portfolio is currently invested in an aggressive, growth-oriented mix of securities that seeks to earn the long-term growth typically associated with the stock market. The portfolio is diversified primarily among various stock investments in both domestic and foreign markets, with only a minor portion of the portfolio invested in fixed income securities. Stock exposure can range from 70% - 95%.

Over Time: The portfolio's investment mix will gradually become more conservative as the target date approaches and for several years after the target date. During the target year, the portfolio's stock exposure can range from 20% - 60%. At five years after the target date and beyond, the focus will be on capital preservation, and stock exposure can range from 15% - 45%.

May be Appropriate for Investors:

- Who plan to stop contributions and start periodic withdrawals around the year 2055
- Who generally have time to withstand market volatility and can accept very significant fluctuations in current account value
- Who prefer to take advantage of professional management through a single, diversified investment portfolio that becomes more conservative over time

About Target Date Funds

A target date fund is a single investment portfolio designed to meet an investor's changing needs over time. The fund gradually shifts from a more aggressive to a more conservative investment objective over the years to reflect an appropriate risk/return trade-off for the investor's changing time horizon.

Manning & Napier's Glide Range

Target date funds follow a "glide path" to gradually decrease the fund's stock exposure as the target year approaches. Our glide path incorporates asset allocation ranges which allow us to proactively adjust the portfolio's stock exposure within specific ranges as the fund moves along the glide path.

The mix of investments within the portfolio is not only determined by the amount of time to the target date, but also by the risks and opportunities in the current market environment. Stock exposure will typically be higher when our analysis shows markets are less expensive and economic factors are favorable, and lower in high risk environments when stock markets are overvalued.

Manning & Napier Fund, Inc.

Target 2055 Series Class R6

A Word About Risk

Each Manning & Napier Fund, Inc. Target Series is invested in one or two of four proprietary risk-based funds based on the Target Series becoming increasingly conservative over time.

Because the underlying funds invest in both stocks and bonds, the value of your investment will fluctuate in response to stock market movements and changes in interest rates. Investing in target date funds will also involve a number of other risks, including issuer-specific risk, foreign investment risk, and small-cap/mid-cap risk, as the underlying investments change over time. Investments in options and futures, like all derivatives, can be highly volatile and involve risks in addition to the risks of the underlying instrument on which the derivative is based, such as counterparty, correlation and liquidity risk. Also, the use of leverage increases exposure to the market and may magnify potential losses. Principal value is not guaranteed at any time, including at the target date (the approximate year when an investor plans to stop contributions and start periodic withdrawals).

Inception performance is based on the Target Series Class I inception of 06/25/2012. For periods through 10/16/2017 (the inception date of the Class R6 shares), performance for the Class R6 shares is based on the historical performance of the Class I shares. Because the Class R6 shares invest in the same portfolio of securities as the Class I shares, performance will be different only to the extent that the Class I shares have a higher expense ratio. Performance data quoted represents past performance and does not guarantee future results. Performance for periods greater than one year is annualized. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate, so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be higher or lower than that quoted; investors can obtain the most recent month-end performance at www.manning-napier.com or by calling (800) 466-3863.

The Target Composite Benchmark represents the performance of the target date fund's asset classes according to their respective weightings, as adjusted over time to reflect the target date fund's increasingly conservative asset allocations. The following indices are used to calculate the Target Composite Benchmarks: Russell 3000® Index (Russell 3000), MSCI ACWI ex USA Index (ACWIxUS), and Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Aggregate Bond Index (BAB) and/or Bloomberg Barclays U.S. Intermediate Aggregate Bond Index (BIAB). Russell 3000 is an unmanaged index that consists of 3,000 of the largest U.S. companies based on total market capitalization. Index returns are based on a market capitalization-weighted average of relative price changes of the component stocks plus dividends whose reinvestments are compounded daily. Index returns provided by Bloomberg. ACWIxUS is designed to measure large and mid-cap representation across 22 of 23 Developed Markets countries (excluding the U.S.) and 24 Emerging Markets countries. The Index is denominated in U.S. dollars. The Index returns are net of withholding taxes. They assume daily reinvestment of net dividends thus accounting for any applicable dividend taxation. Index returns provided by Bloomberg. BAB and BIAB are both unmanaged, market value-weighted indices of U.S. domestic investment-grade debt issues, including government, corporate, asset-backed and mortgage-backed securities. BAB includes maturities of one year or more; BIAB includes maturities of greater than one year but less than ten years. BAB and BIAB returns provided by Interactive Data. Indices returns do not reflect any fees or expenses. Returns provided are calculated monthly using a blended allocation. Because the target date fund's asset allocation will vary over time, the composition of the target date portfolio may not match the composition of the comparative Target Composite Benchmark. Mid-month performance is not available for the Composite Benchmark. Performance shown is from the first of the month following the corresponding Fund's inception date. The S&P Target Date Index Series is a series of unmanaged indices that reflect the market consensus for asset allocations for different target date horizons. Asset class weights are established annually and rebalanced monthly. Prior to 02/26/2010, the indices were rebalanced annually. Index returns assume daily reinvestment of dividends. Beginning 06/01/2017, the asset class exposure for each index is represented by indices and returns do not reflect any fees or expenses. Prior to 06/01/2017, the asset class exposure for each index is represented by exchange traded funds (ETFs) and returns are net of ETF expenses. Index returns provided by Bloomberg.
